Inspired by the playful yet dynamic nature of a firework sparkler, the FLUX Low Table is the second piece in a collection of furniture using a single energetic line that flows as an infinite and unsupported loop.

This singular loop is made up of over 400m of individual strands of braided brass wire, giving the piece a textured directional movement, and thereby highlighting its graceful twists and turns.

The thick glass top is connected harmoniously to the loop by a series of ultraviolet bonded polished brass fittings.
